January 25, 1899.

Most women approach the critical period of the first time with a sense of dread and foreboding. But the ruth- less hand of death should snatch them away and leave the expectant little darling motherless. But no woman who fortifies herself with the strengthening power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription need feel one instant's misgiving about either her- self or the prospective little one.

This matchless "Prescription" will give her exactly the kind of healthy vitality she needs and at the time she needs it most. It will give elastic endurance to the entire delicate organism involved in motherhood. It will make the coming of baby absolutely free from danger and nearly free from pain.

It will insure the baby's start in life by imparting through its influence upon the mother, that sturdy infantile vigor which gladdens a mother's heart. It is the only medicine which can be implicitly relied upon for this purpose, and the only remedy expressly designed by an educated ex- perience physician to give perfect health and strength to the delicate, special organ- ism of women.

Mr. Joseph Ramsey, of Williams, Colleton Co., S. C. writes: "I have been using your medi- cines for some time and am happy to say that they have done all that you claim for them. I think they have no equal in the world. I would advise all women while in a delicate state to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It shortens the time of birth and makes the labor easier. My wife is the mother of five children and she suffered almost death in the birth of them until this last one; the time of birth was short and labor easy, from the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Ad- viser used to sell for $1.50, now it is free. It tells all about the home-treatment of ordinary diseases. Several chapters are devoted to the diseases of women. For a paper-covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Associa- tion, Buffalo, N. Y. Cloth binding, 31 stamps. "Favorite Prescription" can be obtained in any good medicine store.

SELFISHNESS.

We Nearly Always Discover It In Others, But Never In Ourselves.

Probably the most insidious of all the faults is that upon the absence of which we most pride ourselves, and that at the same time we notice most readily in others. In some of us it is pride, in others gossiping. The list is long, and we know it without going into details, but that which we do not seem to realize is that the very most common fault of us all as a mass is selfishness.

We do know that nearly every one we meet is selfish, but we seldom discover how selfish we are ourselves unless shown by a sudden touch of deep regret. Most of us discover, for instance, that we were selfish in refer- ence to some dear friend dead, but we stop right there, and while we regret the past and shed useless tears over the lost chance we do not make any new discoveries—namely, that we are selfish to our living friends—and while we think that they are being unfair, un- kind, to us we forget to be generous ourselves, to look beyond the frown, the hard word, the selfish act or neglect, and see what it is that causes all this, to see what strain our friend is bearing and share it in so far as patience, gener- ous forbearance, will lighten it.

Think how selfish most of us have been in time gone by, how quick words have gone out to hurt hearts already hurt, when from us at least that particu- lar cross friend had a right to hope for better things.

Do not make a very close examina- tion of things in general and see whether you are not yourself more selfish than are your friends, and remember that the greatest generosity in this world is to have patience with others in their "selfishness," for in half the cases at least it is pain or worry, not real in- tended unkindness at all.—Philadelphia Times.

OUR JAWS NEED EXERCISE.

Lack of Mastication Causes Dyspep- sia and Teeth Troubles.

Mastication is rapidly becoming a lost art, and, although we have become hardened to the fact that three-fourths of the dyspepsia is due to this cause, it might surprise some of us to know that the early decay of the teeth and diseases of the gums are occasioned by this same lack of maxillary exercise.

A disease of the gums, called Riggs' disease, which is every day becoming more common, is caused almost entirely by the want of proper mastication. Twenty-five years ago this trouble was not considered of any importance by the dentist on account of its rare occur- rence.

Today it is given more care than the decay of the teeth, as he is frequently consulted by patients who have a full set of natural teeth which are quite loose in the jaw. Aside from this they are sound and healthy, and after a certain development in the disease nothing can be done to help them.

By lack of exercise the blood which should nourish both the bones and the gums is not carried to the part, nor does the blood carry sufficient material to the teeth; hence the enamel formed is de- fective, and early decay results. Fre- quently, too, the mechanical develop- ment of the jaw is arrested by this same want of motion.

Most of the food among the better class of people today is cooked so as to require very little mastication, and the consequence is that the muscles have become flabby, the jaws slender and the processes for the attachment of the muscles almost obliterated.—Boston Globe.

It is an easy thing to be a millionaire in Berlin. A yearly income of over $9,000, representing the interest on 1,000,000 marks, is the qualification for that title, which is enjoyed by 2,002 Berlin- ers.

Garlic came from Asia and has been used since the earliest times. It formed part of the diet of the Israelites in Egypt and was used by Greek and Ro- man soldiers and African peasants.

On a Large Scale.

"I have heard some very romantic stories about your successes," said the young woman as she looked out of the corners of her eyes and adjusted her mouth so as to make dimples.

"Yes," responded Senator Sorghum with a complacent smile.

"It has been intimated to me that you have made money out of politics. But, of course, one doesn't have to be- lieve everything one hears."

"Well, these silver people did so badly when they tried to make politics out of money I dunno's a man would be to blame for turning the experiment the other way around."

"And then another person told me that you got your very first start in life as a curbstone fakir."

"That's libelous."

"I thought so."

"Absolutely false. The way I got my first start was this. I had a farm left me, which wasn't good for anything else, so I got it surveyed and had maps printed and opened up an office and sold the whole thing off in lots. I'm not a man of small enterprises. When I start out to do anything, I do it with a will. As soon as I made up my mind to fake I faked a whole town. I wouldn't stop with a curbstone."

—Washington Star.

She Kept Her Appointment.

A. was a young man in a cavalry regiment who fell in love with B., the daughter of an opulent merchant. He grew tired of her, and when his regi- ment was ordered to the east he left her without explanations.

Returning home with more dust than medals on his coat, he dined and went to a ball, where B. was the dearest among the beauties. They danced, and she showed no resentment on the score of past unfaithfulness. Pressed by A., she gave him an appointment at a cer- tain church near her father's house, which had been their trysting place in other days.

A. went happily to his club, and his old friend, Major C., offered him a cigar.

"I met Lucy B. this evening," said A., and he told his friend of the ap- pointment she had given him.

The major expressed no surprise, but said Lucy was a good and forgiving girl—for he knew what had gone before.

A. went to the church on the day named, and there was a wedding. When the ceremony was over, B., the bride, came out of the church on the arm of Major C., the bridegroom.

A. went home to his lodgings.—Pear- son's Weekly.

Sure They Were Safe.

The method adopted by a rustic look- ing individual to prevent the loss of his hat and coat while dining furnished the patrons of a Market street cafe with much amusement yesterday. The stran- ger meandered leisurely into the place during the busy lunch hour and made his way to the nearest vacant chair. Producing several yards of twine from his pocket, he removed his hat and passed the string once around the crown, making it fast with a double knot.

This, of course, caused a number of diners to suspend hostilities in order better to observe the next move, but the careful stranger appeared oblivious to the sensation he was creating. Taking off his coat, he passed the loose end of the string through one sleeve, and, after securing the end to his wrist, hung hat and coat on the rack. Assuring himself that the knots were firmly tied, the cautious individual sat down and pro- ceeded to get away with a substantial meal.—Philadelphia Record

CENTRAL PACIFIC SETTLEMENT.

The settlement of the Central Pacific's indebtedness was doubtless owing to the English stock and bond holders. They had become heartily sick, tired and disgusted with Huntington's policy of expending millions to defraud the government through Congressional action, so they took the matter into their own hands, with the result that, while the company is given time, with a periodical system of payments and with a small interest rate, the government is secured and the honest stock and bond holders are perfectly satisfied with the settlement. These terms appear to be just and equitable to all of the parties concerned. Notes have been given by the company aggregating $58,812,715. They are twenty in number, payable semi-annually and are each for $2,940,635, bearing interest at three per cent. The notes, which are dated San Francisco, February 1, 1899, and signed by Isaac L. Regua, the President of the Central Pacific Company, contain the provision that in case a default is made in the payment of either principle or interest, the entire series becomes at once due and payable.

It is a matter of congratulation to the people of the United States that the matter has been adjusted, for it will remove the cause and object for the most barefaced and disgraceful scheme to rob the government that was ever attempted by Congressional legislation. The people are also to be congratulated upon the failure of the Huntington policy of settlement by the expenditure of immense sums of money which, if legitimately applied, would have considerably reduced the debt, which has now to be paid in full.

RIGHT YOU ARE.

The Lyon County Times sometimes gets off on the right foot—as for instance:

The investigation of the embalmed beef scandals is about over. There has been nothing fair or just about the investigation and McKinley, Alger and his committee have ridden rough shod over all testimony in support of Miles' statement that the beef furnished the army was not fit for a dog to eat. Miles' story, however, backed up by the testimony of hundreds of soldiers who had the meat thrust before them to eat, is believed by nine out of ten of the people of the United States. And now there are threats of a court-martial for Miles, while the sneaking Egan gets his sentence reduced to retirement for a few years but draws full pay. What the beef packing trusts paid McKinley, Alger and Egan to bring about this result is not known, but if Algerism does not kill McKinleyism dead, then a door will be open now it will be strange. The whole matter of the trusts manipulating the war supplies is a disgrace to the American people. Egan should be drummed out of camp and stripped of his pay; Alger should be a felon's cell and McKinley should be impeached and dethroned.

The Gazette cannot understand how the increased exportation of Indian wheat from nothing to 50,000,000 bushels per annum, affects disastrously the farmers of the United States, neither can it understand that the cause of the increase is the market opened to it by English buyers, who make a double profit by purchasing American silver at its commodity price and passing it on Indian wheat growers at par, thereby getting the product cheaper than they can from the United States. But our evening contemporary isn't expected to understand such things. It ably defends monometalism from the office holding standpoint, as many "silver" papers in Nevada discuss bimetalism, without advancing an idea in support of the principle itself, or possessing the ability to do so if they would.

It is the JOURNAL's policy to convince its readers of the merits of bimetalism and the demerits of a single standard, and then let the people vote for such candidates as will best carry out the most meritorious principle.

The young men of the state should bear in mind that no man can justify himself in breaking a party pledge because some other man has done so. This was Newland's mistake.—Love-lock Tribune.

It is a principle of law that when one party breaks a contract, the contract is void, at least so far as it relates to the violator. Stewart broke his contract by covertly opposing Mr. Newlands at the election. This left Mr. Newlands free to oppose Stewart in the legislature. What is sauce for a United States Senator is, or ought to be, sauce for a Congressman. Old as well as young men will do well to bear this in mind.

SINCE the investigating committee has examined Egan's embalmed beef and found it good and wholesome, the members ought to be obliged to live on it for six months—if they don't die before that time is up.

The California deadlock is likely to continue until the end of the legislative session. Well, the golden State ought to be able to worry along with Perkins, Jones and Stewart.

The primary department of the public school at Pioche has suspended. Only six out of an enrollment of fifty are free from the grip.

BREVITIES.

Genuine Angostura bitters, 75 cents, at Thyes.

M. Nathan is still suffering from an aggravated case of grip, and his condition is such as to cause serious fears by his relatives and friends.

The people of California are clamoring because the Legislature does not elect a U. S. Senator. The people of Nevada are kicking because the Legislature did elect one.

Truckee has driven out the tough characters, and it is thought some have landed in Reno, judging from the appearance of a number of late arrivals. They should be kept on the move.

The Risdon pump at Virginia was put in operation yesterday. It worked perfectly, and sent a big stream through the Sinto tunnel. "Old Virginia" will again come to the front.

Joe K. Marzen and Clyde Grant came up from the University at Reno to spend Saturday and Sunday at home. The boys are getting along nicely at the University.—Truckee Republican.

Fred Hagerman was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia at Virginia City some time ago. The JOURNAL is, however, glad to report that at last accounts he was better and apparently on the road to recovery.

According to the Railway Agent of Cleveland, the pennant for fast running on American railroads has been transferred from the east to the country west of the Mississippi river. The splendid showing made by the Burlington fast mail trains between Chicago and Council Bluffs is what brought about the change. These trains now make the 500 mile run between Lake Michigan and Missouri river at the rate of nearly 50 miles an hour, including stops. The first exclusive fast mail train for the west left Chicago March 11, 1884. It consisted of a mail car and a baggage car. Two trains, one of four and the other of five cars, are now required. The schedule of the first fast mail was 15 hours and 50 minutes. The present schedule is 10 hours and 15 minutes.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dunn's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalatypes, small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can take it who has lame back and weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, head ache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Capt. Neall.

Sunday's San Francisco Chronicle has a long account of the alleged case of Capt. Neall's departure. A Chronicle reporter interviewed a woman named Vivian Alcott, an inmate of a respectable house on Stockton street. The woman states that Capt. Neall was greatly infatuated with her and spent large sums of money for jewelry, dresses, etc., for her adornment. She claims also that she was madly in love with him and would go to him if she knew his whereabouts. Nothing has been heard of the missing man, although the impression is going that he has not suicided, but has left the country.

"La Tosca."

It is rare indeed that Denver is called to record so great a success as was made by the new star, Blanche Walsh, who appeared with Melbourne McDowell in "La Tosca" at the Broadway Theater last night. Notwithstanding the many friends Miss Walsh has in Denver, who looked for great things from the talented young actress, she surprised her most sanguine admirers and scored a triumph such as rarely falls to the lot of an artiste in Denver.

—Denver Republican.
Miss Walsh and Melbourne McDowell will appear at McKissick's Opera House next Thursday evening.

Foster as plaintiff in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this Summons, exclusive of day of service, if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said day of trial, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. This action is brought to recover against you a decree to foreclose a mortgage made by C. H. Gardner on the following mentioned and described real property, to-wit: South half of the west one hundred feet of lot six in block "U" and lot 5 in block "U", in the town of Reno, Washoe County, State of Nevada, five acres and one part of block "U" as in fact it is, also to procure an order of court directing a sale of the above mentioned property, the proceeds of said sale to pay a promissory note to the sum of $1893 and 31-100 dollars, including interest accrued and unpaid. Said note was made by the date and under the hand of the said C. H. Gardner, and by its terms provides for interest on the money represented at a rate of 8 per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually. The said note and the interest thereon accrued and remaining unpaid is said sum of $1893 31-100; also should there be insufficient to pay said indebtedness, the said C. H. Gardner is bound to pay a promissory note for any unpaid remainder after payment of costs and charges of foreclosure and sale. It is alleged in the complaint that there is a mistake in the description of the property mortgaged and the mistake is sought to be corrected by order and decree of court, and therefore that an order be made and decree entered foreclosing said mortgage and directing a sale of the property mortgaged, and after sale made that one cent and charges of foreclosure and sale including attorney's fee of $200 provided for be paid from the proceeds arising from a sale made of the mortgaged property; also that the defendants David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham, be made parties defendant and that they and each of them be required to answer the complaint, showing any right they or either of them may claim in the mortgaged property. All of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, at Reno, this 15th day of February, A. D. 1899.

THE SHOOTING AT OLINGHOUSE.

A Mystery Shrouds the Tragic Death of George Avery.

A diversity of opinion prevails concerning the killing of George Avery last Saturday morning at Olinghouse canyon, about eight miles north of Wadsworth. Many believe the circumstances indicate a foul and premeditated murder, while others are of the opinion that the shooting was wholly accidental. H. L. Reed, the man who did the shooting, surrendered himself to the authorities and was brought to Reno Sunday morning and placed in the county jail.

The particulars known seem to bear out Reed's statement that the shooting was accidental. They are as follows: Reed and Avery were living together in a cabin at Olinghouse, where they were doing assessment work on mining claims. Reed was ill the morning on which the shooting occurred. Avery arose early and prepared breakfast for Reed and brought it to the bedside. In sitting up Reed found his gun, a modern magazine rifle, which was always kept near the bed or under the mattress, in his way. He picked it up to move it to another position when it went off, the bullet striking Avery, who was standing near the door. The ball entered the right side near the lower rib and came out just below the left nipple, penetrating the heart, causing almost instantaneous death. After he received the wound Avery shrieked with pain and staggered out of the open door falling face downward on the hillside fully twenty feet from the cabin. Some men who were staying in a cabin about twenty yards distant, hearing the shot and cry of anguish, ran towards the scene of the tragedy. They met Reed, half dressed, running toward them. When near enough to speak he said: "Boys, I've killed Avery, but it was an accident. I went to shove the gun out of my way when it went off and killed him." After looking at the body Reed went back to bed, as he was still very ill. A man was dispatched to Wadsworth to notify the authorities, who soon placed Reed under arrest.

The above is the story which Reed tells. Is it false or is it true? There were no witnesses to the awful deed except the winds and hills. If it be true, Avery, a ter he was shot, turned around and walked out the door. This seems improbable, as the wound was so fatal, that he would have fallen almost immediately. On the other hand, Avery may have seen Reed aiming the gun at him, and rushed toward the door in an attempt to escape. Then, after receiving the shot, the momentum already gained would have carried him to the place where he fell. Blood was found on the steps of the cabin and on the ground between the door and the body.

The extreme reticence of the prisoner and evidence yet unexplained shrouds the whole affair in mystery. Another ominous feature is the fact that E. R. Dodge, the attorney for defense, absolutely forbids the prisoner being interviewed. Mr. Dodge hesitatingly admits that he fears the prisoner would be unable to give a plausible account of the shooting.

The preliminary trial will be held as soon as the prisoner recovers from his illness, which is an attack of the measles. It is thought the attorney for defense will enter a plea of insanity for the prisoner.

ENDS HIS LIFE WITH A RAZOR.

Joe Downey, a Reno Bartender, Committed Suicide Sunday Morning.

Joe Downey, a bartender at the Grand Central Hotel, cut his throat with a razor about six o'clock last Sunday morning. He had given no one an intimation of his intention to commit suicide and left no written information telling why he chose to end his life. Downey arose as usual Sunday morning and performed his regular work in the barroom and then entered the toilet room. About thirty minutes later the cook in passing by, saw streams of blood flowing out upon the floor. He called assistance and then forced an entrance. The open door revealed Downey lying dead in a pool of blood upon the floor. He had evidently cut his throat and then waited quietly for death, for after the act he had closed the razor and laid it upon the seat beside him. The coroner's inquest resulted in a verdict of suicide, and the body was yesterday taken to Dayton for interment.

Downey was the son of a Mason Valley farmer and had been living in Reno about six months. His brother is well known as the Assessor and Recorder of Lyon county.

THE FRENCH PRESIDENCY.

The President of France is not elected by the people but by the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, in joint session, the same as our United States Senators are elected in joint convention by the State Assembly and Senate. He is elected for seven years. His duties present few analogies to those of the President of the United States. It was the aim of the makers of the French Constitution, evidently, to create a figurehead for the government who should be as far as possible above and apart from the dissond of partisan politics. In fact, his position is as near as possible to that of a crowned leader of a constitutional monarchy, like that of Great Britain. The President is not expected to be a dominant force in shaping the policy of the government. The substitution of one President for another therefore means no important change in governmental policy as in the United States. The leading Statesmen of France at the time of the establishment of the present Republic, were evidently either not so entirely divested of monarchical ideas and methods as to adopt the American system of electing a President, or else they were too distrustful of the people to place such power in their hands. This, in the opinion of eminent statesmen, was a mistake in which is involved the greatest danger to the French Republic. This danger lies in a Presidential election taking place when the meorial people of France are agitated over some real or fancied grievance and when turbulence was held in check by lack of opportunity to make itself manifest by serious riot and revolution.

It will be remembered that when President Carnot was assassinated in 1894, France was in a state bordering on revolution. Ferier was elected three days later, by a very small majority over the other principal candidate, whose name does not occur to us at the present moment. The opposing candidate was the choice of a considerable majority of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, while Ferier was the decided choice of the malcontents who threatened the serenity, if not the very continuance of the Republic. Fortunately, enough members were sufficiently conservative, patriotic and conciliatory to waive their personal preference, to cast the balance in favor of the man who was the favorite of the turbulent and revolutionary element, and so the temporary peace of the Republic was secured. Perhaps, under similar conditions, which are liable to occur at any time, the elective power will prove more head-strong, which would precipitate the averted Janer which threatened the Republic in 1894. The Dreyfus matter was the only cause of dissension in France at the time of the death of the late President, but it was perhaps fortunate that the election came off so soon as to give little time for pretenders and army officers to carry out schemes hostile to the Republic before a new chief magistrate was seated. But under even these favorable conditions, the dispatches relate macatment of the new President by the Nationalists and anti-Semitic press, more violent and threatening than was ever experienced by any American President so soon after his election or inauguration in office. The framers of the French constitution made the same mistake in regard to the election of President that our fore-fathers did in preventing the people from electing by popular vote their United States Senators.

USURPATION OF MUNICIPAL POWER

The point made by Chairman Osburn in relation to the County Recorder having the vetoing power of nullifying the unanimous action of the five members of the City Council, appears to us unanswerable. We can conceive nothing more absurd or incongruous in the conducting of public affairs than is proposed in bill 39, now pending in the Legislature. It proposes to give a county official, elected by the people of the entire county to perform certain duties relating exclusively to the county, power to render void the acts of five Councilmen elected by the people of the city to attend to city business, and to subject them to the control of a county official who was elected for no such purpose and with no such intent by the voters of the county. It would be a parallel case to invest the State Controller, who is the State's auditing officer, with the veto power possessed by the Auditor of Washoe county in relation to all acts of our Board of County Commissioners. No, on second thought, it would not be a parallel case. A County Auditor's veto only overrules the action of three members, while bill 39 empowers him to nullify the proceedings of five members of a Board elected for purposes with which the County Recorder is in no wise connected, nor was it supposed that he ever would be by the people of Reno at the time of his election.

It is no reflection upon our present excellent and efficient County Auditor and Recorder to say that the imposing of a duty and responsibility upon him which was not dreamed of by the people who elected him, and which pertains to an entirely separate government, is as absurd as it is unreasonable and unjust. We furthermore are confident that he has no desire to be made a party to such gross usurpation of municipal power as is contemplated in the bill referred to. It is the firm opinion of a large majority of the advocates of pure and wholesome water, that bills drawn by an attorney of the water company are for the purpose of hindrance and delay and with the view to the absolute destruction of all further steps toward the construction of new works, such as was so emphatically demanded by the people of Reno at the special election two years ago.

THE LAST.

Chairman Osburn Makes his Concluding Remarks to Judge Cheney.

EDITOR JOURNAL: After a careful reading of Judge Cheney's latest communication in the Gazette I am convinced the general public are in possession of all the material facts of our controversy. However Judge Cheney, in his diplomatic language "for the last time," asks the question: Why does President Osburn object to city claims being audited?

I had believed that this question had been fully answered in substance but out of courtesy to Judge Cheney I will again answer it "for the last time." Judge Cheney admits that under the law as it now is the City Treasurer is authorized by law to refuse to pay any illegal claim against the city, but in Assembly Bill No. 39, which he "assisted" to prepare, the County Auditor is given a veto power upon the city bills which requires the unanimous vote of the City Council to pass over the veto.

I respectfully submit that the County Auditor, who is elected by the people of Washoe county at large, should not be given a power in the local fiscal affairs of the city of Reno which would require the unanimous vote of their five City Councilmen, elected only by the people of Reno, to overcome, and I further submit that the legal authority of the City Treasurer to refuse to pay any illegal claim against the city is an ample check upon the City Council.

In concluding this correspondence I desire to thank Judge Cheney for his candid frankness in admitting the truth of my statements made in the course of our controversy and I the more appreciate his candor knowing the immeasurable advantage he has over me in legal matters in which his ability is unquestioned and I am absolutely unlearned.

"La Tosca."

If the late Fanny Davenport had lived to see Blanche Walsh play her favorite roles she might have left the stage feeling that she had a successor fully able to carry on her line of work. Young as Miss Walsh still is, she is now considered equal and in some ways even superior to Fanny Davenport. Her phenomenal success is due to a genius which makes her fully deserving of the title of the "Bernhardt of America."—Denver Republican.

Miss Walsh and Melbourne MacDowell will appear at McKissick's Opera House to-morrow (Thursday) evening in Fanny Davenport's celebrated production of "La Tosca."

A Plant Curiosity.

Attorney-General Summerfield yesterday received from the east two Japanese fern balls. When in their dried up state they resemble a bunch of small sticks, but upon being watered a few times the fern leaves spring out and assume a deep green color, which is very pretty and attractive and which is retained as long as moisture is furnished. Without water they will again take on the dried-up stick appearance, but will retain life for an indefinite period. They are quite a curiosity.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.

The State of Nevada, sends to C. H. Gardner, David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham, Greeting:

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you and defend and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, exclusive of a day of service, if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said trial, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. This action is brought to recover against you a decree to foreclose a mortgage made by C. H. Gardner on the following mentioned and described real property, to-wit: South half of the west one hundred feet of lot six in block "U" and lot 5 in block "U," in the town of Reno, Washoe county, State of Nevada, five acres and mistake in the mortgage which lot five in block "U" which mortgage was recorded and appeared of record including the mistake that shows and lot 5 to be a part of said block "U" and not a part of block "U" in fact it is, also to procure an order of court directing a sale of the above mentioned property for the purpose of paying the sum of $1800 and $1-100 dollars, including interest accrued and unpaid. Said note was made by the defendant Gardner on the 14th day of October, 1897, and by its terms provides for interest on the money thereby represented at a rate of 8 per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually. The said note and the interest thereon accrued and remaining unpaid is said sum of $1800.31-100; also should there be insufficient to pay said indebtedness, a judgment is sought for any unpaid remainder after payment of costs and charges of foreclosure and sale. It is alleged in the complaint that there is a mistake in the description of the property most aged and the mistake is sought to be corrected by order and decree of court, and thereafter that an order be made and decree entered foreclosing said mortgage and directing a sale of the property mortgaged, and after sale made that the cost and charges of foreclosure, and sale including attorney's fee of $200 provided for be paid from the proceeds arising from a sale made of the mortgaged property; also that the defendants David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham be made parties defendant and that they and each of them be required to answer the complaint, showing any right they or either of them may claim in the mortgaged property, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at Reno, this 1st day of February, A. D. 1899.

the years 1899 and 1900 foot up to the enormous sum of $334,990.

Figuring the population of the State at 40,000, the cost for the maintenance of the State Government and State institutions is $8 37½ per capita for the next two years. If county governments are included in the estimate the cost per capita is nearly $14 or $7 per year. In the words of Tremont of Eureka, "How long, Oh! Lord, how long," can the people of Nevada stand this pressure. Decay and decline apparent on every hand, while the taxes increase and expenses grow apace.

Mr. Hodgkinson stated that he believed it was proper that the Assembly should show its respect to the "Father of Our Country" and he therefore moved an adjournment until Thursday the 23rd. Carried.

The Washoe Lunch Counter.

Harry Clausen insists on keeping the Washoe Lunch Counter in the lead. Yesterday he secured a lot of fat ducks, geese and chickens and other toothsome eatables, and will serve one of the finest meals imaginable to-day. Harry says that if there is one name more than another that he has respect and admiration for it is the name of George Washington, and he knows of no better way to celebrate his birth than by feasting and being of good cheer. Consequently he has taken extra pains to secure the wherewithal to set an unusually good meal to-morrow for all who patronize him.

The show window furnishes all evidence necessary to prove that he knows just what the inner man needs to make him at peace with the world.

County Commissioners.

The County Commissioners met yesterday and discussed matters relative to the tax levy for the ensuing year. As a number of bills having influence upon the levy are yet before the Legislature, the commissioners were unable to decide upon the tax definitely, but it is thought the rate will be fixed at about two dollars on the hundred, or nearly the same as that of last year.

The value of $12,000 placed by Mrs. O. J. Smith upon the land selected for an experiment station farm was considered. The board will await the action of the Legislature on the bill now pending before deciding the matter. The board then adjourned to meet next Monday.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can take it who has lame back and weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters.

This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, head ache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

The T. H. P. O. Ball.

The T. H. P. O. fraternity made its debut last night with a dash of gaiety. The large gymnasium was decorated in a manner indicative of the secret nature of the society. A novel feature of the ball was the manner in which the programs were printed. Black they were, with an ominous white skull and cross-bones on the cover. On the inside were the various numbers, dedicated to individual members of the fraternity, together with a joke or pertinent phrase relative to the one so honored. The supper was another laudable feature, as the writer can well testify. The affair was enjoyed by all, and we hope the T. H. P. O. will favor us again in the future.

The State Journal, Reno, Nev.—GENTLEMEN: The JOURNAL is coming to my address in Washington. I never ordered it and do not desire it. Please discontinue it at once, as I shall not receive it. Yours, WM. M. STEWART.

As the Southern Pacific's Senator has received the JOURNAL regularly for the last six or seven years and has never ponied a nickel, the withdrawal of his subscription will cause no serious financial embarrassment to this paper. Their Wedding Trip.
A summer visitor in a New England mill town made friends with one or two of the French Canadians who were employed as operatives in the mills. One of these was an elderly widower whose two youngest children the visitor had taken to drive with him several times.

"I make a marriage next week, ma'mselle," said the father as she deposited the children at their home late one afternoon. "You see us all go past your house on the wedding trip."

"Indeed!" said the young woman. "Shall you go in the coach?"

"No, we go in hired buggy. My wife she go, and I with her, to the bury ground, same as our people most always," said the man, with evident surprise at the lady's ignorance. "Three buggy more behind us, and we all carry two, three bouquet to put on my first wife's grave. Yes'm, it is a pretty wedding trip to the bury ground, and respectful."

Three or four days later the summer visitor was filled with mixed emotions as he saw the four buggies, laden with the wedding party clad in gay attire, pass the house and turn into the little cemetery. Some minutes later the buggies again went by, that time at a cheerful trot, and she was favored with an elaborate bow from the bridegroom, whose face wore a happy and virtuous smile.—Youth's Companion.
